Typar[®] Weather Protection System Wraps Extreme Makeover: Home Edition Project

Typar[®] Weather Protection System Donated to Protect Home Against Air and Moisture Intrusion

(OLD HICKORY, Tenn.) November 1, 2007 – Luck changed for the Ray-Smith family of Milbridge, Maine, when the popular ABC television program, “Extreme Makeover: Home Edition” crew teamed up with Broughman Builder, Inc., of Ellsworth, Maine, and more than 600 volunteers to build the family a new, high-quality home in a few short days.

To help contribute to the sustainability, energy-efficiency and overall comfort of the home, the Typar[®] Weather Protection System, which includes Typar[®] HouseWrap, Flashings and Construction Tape, were used to guard the home against the damaging effects of moisture and air penetration.

With an industry-leading tear strength that’s proven to be five times greater than that of the leading competitor, more than 3,000 square feet of Typar[®] HouseWrap[™] was installed to protect the home from nature’s harshest elements. Typar[®] Flashings and Construction Tape were used in conjunction with Typar[®] HouseWrap to assure seams, edges and openings are buttoned up to guarantee the highest level of system performance.

With the burden of school loans and other bills, the Ray-Smith family had to move into an old and dilapidated home that has been in Brittany's family for generations. The home is more than 100 years old and has been deemed unsafe, with problems ranging from an outdated septic system and cracked foundation to outdated electrical wiring.

In addition to the struggles they face with their home, they also contend with high medical bills as their son, Thomas, suffers from Autism and doctors fear their other son, JoJo, may be Autistic as well. Both Ron and his daughter, Bayley, suffer from Hypolipidemia, a condition causing extremely high cholesterol, which resulted in fatal heart attacks in Ron's mother and brother.

Airing in early 2008, the episode will feature a race against time on a project that would ordinarily take at least four months to achieve, involving a team of designers, contractors and several hundred workers who have just seven days to build the Ray-Smith family a new home.
